Product Platform for Agricultural Solutions

Adaptive organo-mineral fertilizer for soil health

Description

IWMI developed a methodology to produce organo – mineral fertilizer from urban waste for improving soil health and suitable for application to food crops. Adaptable to different context depending on the available waste stream. The technology has been developed and tested in Ghana and Sri Lanka

Innovation Contributors

Contributor	Description
Olufunke Cofie	Email: O.Cofie@cgiar.org

Available in	Burkina Faso, Ghana, Sri Lanka.

Institutions

IWMI
International Water Management Institute