

Salinity management for rice

Description

Salinity management is a combination of agronomic practices for salt-affected soils, including application of different nutrient sources (gypsum, zinc and potassium) and use salt-tolerant rice varieties for improving rice productivity of smallholder farmers

Innovation Contributors

Contributor	Description
Ali Ibrahim	Email: I.Ali@cgiar.org
Available in	le Burkina Faso, le Ghana, le Niger, le Nigeria, le Sénégal.

Institutions

