

SRP Performance Indicators and Standard

Description

SRP Performance Indicators are designed to assess sustainability improvements resulting from changes in farm practice, and include profitability, labor and land productivity, food safety, resource use efficiency, climate change mitigation, labor conditions, and women empowerment. The Standard defines a set of key requirements with different levels of performance allowing for a stepwise improvement and compliance process.

Innovation Contributors

Contributor	Description
Kazuki Saito	Email: K.Saito@cgiar.org
Available in	Tous les Pays.

Institutions

